THREATS

At this time, The Foreign Commonwealth Office (FCO) advises against all but essential travel to areas within 60km of the Kenya-Somali border and travel to Garissa County (this does not include safari destinations within national parks).

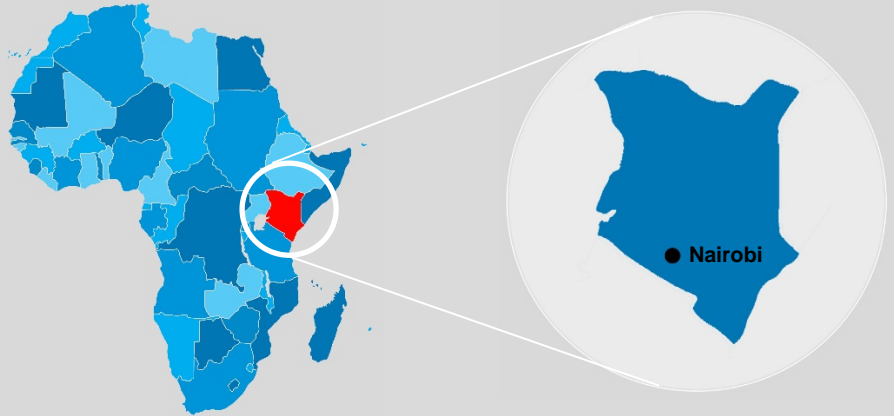

When travelling to/in Kenya, there is high threat of:

- Terrorism
- Kidnapping
- Maritime Terrorism

Crimes such as armed robbery, carjacking and mugging are common, especially within large cities.

The largest terrorism threat derives from extremists linked to the militant group Al Shabaab, especially along the Somalia border. Attacks have included the use of grenades, shootings and bombings (including car bombs). According to the FCO, attacks could happen at "hotels, bars, restaurants, sports bars and nightclubs, sporting events, supermarkets, shopping centres, coastal areas including beaches, airports, buses, trains and other transport hubs, places of worship".

Refer to your own government or embassy for further information applicable to you.
