THREATS

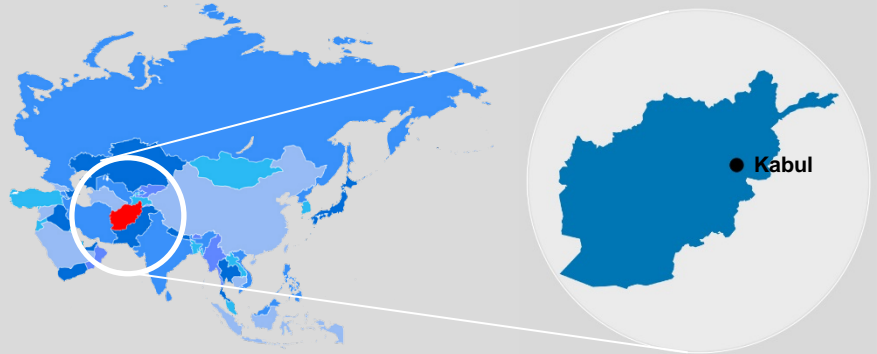

At this time, The UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office (FCO) advises against all travel to Afghanistan across more than half of the country, including the capital city of Kabul. For all other areas, the FCO has advised against all but essential travel.

When travelling to/in Afghanistan, there is high threat of:

- Terrorism
- Kidnapping
- Earthquakes (and subsequently landslides and flooding)

According to the FCO "Attacks include bombs (roadside and other), suicide bombs (either on foot or by vehicle), indirect fire (rockets and mortars), direct fire (shootings and rocket propelled grenades), kidnappings and violent crime." The FCO advises to avoid regular visits to public places frequented by foreigners – this includes market places, shops, hotels and restaurants.

Refer to your own government or embassy for further information applicable to you.

Due to the present threats in Afghanistan, it is widely recommended that you do not travel to this country without sufficient Travel Insurance. Always check your Travel Insurance policy will cover you for high risk locations.

High Risk Voyager Travel Insurance is available to a wide range of nationalities travelling worldwide and can provide peace of mind when travelling to higher risk destinations such as Afghanistan, due to the wide range of Medical cover provided within our policies, which is inclusive of Emergency Medical Repatriation/Evacuation, Political and Natural Disaster Evacuation Expenses, Personal Accident cover, Hijack, Mugging, Piracy and Wrongful Detention, PTSD Assessment and Counselling following a Hostile Event and more. High Risk Cover is provided with a 24/7 Emergency Medical Helpline and Assistance Service staffed by experienced coordinators, as well as in depth Pre-Travel Country Information Files and the "One Tap" Emergency App.

Additional Optional cover is available if you wish to extend your High Risk Voyager Travel Insurance policy, such as Enhanced Personal Accident, Non-Medical Coverages (e.g. baggage, travel delay and missed departure) and Cancellation, Trip Interruption and Disruption Coverages.

It is recommended by the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office that you have Travel Insurance for Afghanistan. Always ensure your policy will cover high risk destinations.
