THREATS

At this time, The Foreign Commonwealth Office (FCO) advises against all travel to south-west Mindanao and Sulu archipelago, as well as all but non-essential travel to the remainder of Mindanao. This is due to terrorist activity and fighting between insurgent groups and the military,

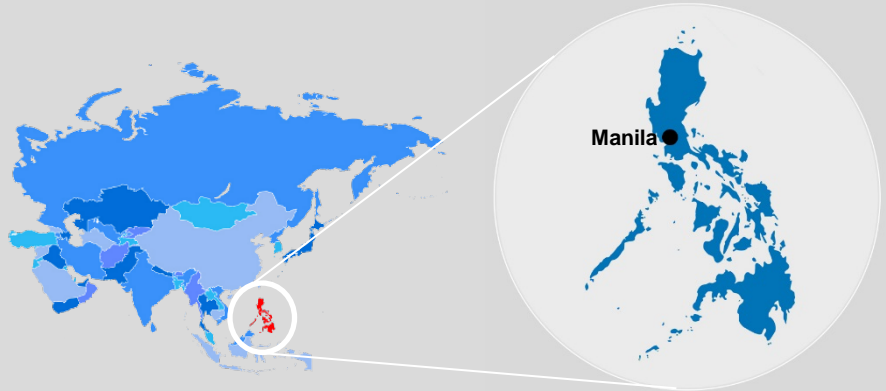

When travelling to/in the Philippines, there is high threat of:

- Terrorism
- Kidnapping
- Typhoons (subsequently flooding and landslides)

Terrorist groups such as New People's Army (NPA), the Abu Sayyaf Group (ASG), Jemaah Islamiyah (JI) and other associated groups pose a threat to security. Moro National Liberation Front (MNLF) and the Moro Islamic Liberation Front (MILF) also continue to pose a security threat.

Kidnapping can occur anywhere and there has been an increase in the kidnapping of foreign nationals since late 2015. These kidnappings are usually planned and carried out by terrorist groups.

Refer to your own government or embassy for further information applicable to you.

Due to the present threats in the Philippines, it is widely recommended that you do not travel to this country without sufficient Travel Insurance. Always check your Travel Insurance policy will cover you for high risk locations.

High Risk Voyager Travel Insurance is available to a wide range of nationalities travelling worldwide and can provide peace of mind when travelling to higher risk destinations such as the Philippines, due to the wide range of Medical cover provided within our policies, which is inclusive of Emergency Medical Repatriation/Evacuation, Political and Natural Disaster Evacuation Expenses, Personal Accident cover, Hijack, Mugging, Piracy and Wrongful Detention, PTSD Assessment and Counselling following a Hostile Event and more.
