THREATS

At this time, The Foreign Commonwealth Office (FCO) advises against all travel to large areas within Russia, as well as all but essential travel to other significant areas.

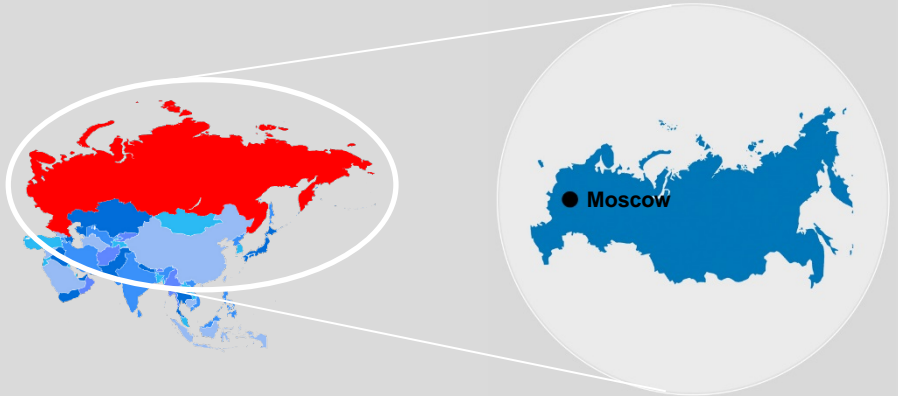

When travelling to/in the Russia, there is high threat of:

- Terrorism
- Flooding (as a result of earth tremors)

Along Russia's border with Ukraine the situation is unpredictable and volatile, with clashes, fighting and kidnapping to be expected. Border crossing points are also uncertain. All public demonstrations and public gatherings should be avoided.

According to the FCO, terrorist attacks have been aimed towards public transport hubs, including airports, trains, buses and the Metro system. You should be vigilant at all times.

Refer to your own government or embassy for further information applicable to you.

Due to the present threats in Russia, it is widely recommended that you do not travel to this country without sufficient Travel Insurance. Always check your Travel Insurance policy will cover you for high risk locations.

High Risk Voyager Travel Insurance is available to a wide range of nationalities travelling worldwide and can provide peace of mind when travelling to higher risk destinations such as Russia, due to the wide range of Medical cover provided within our policies, which is inclusive of Emergency Medical Repatriation/Evacuation, Political and Natural Disaster Evacuation Expenses, Personal Accident cover, Hijack, Mugging, Piracy and Wrongful Detention, PTSD Assessment and Counselling following a Hostile Event and more. High Risk Cover is provided with a 24/7 Emergency Medical Helpline and Assistance Service staffed by experienced coordinators, as well as in depth Pre-Travel Country Information Files and the "One Tap" Emergency App.

Additional Optional cover is available if you wish to extend your High Risk Voyager Travel Insurance policy, such as Enhanced Personal Accident, Non-Medical Coverages (e.g. baggage, travel delay and missed departure) and Cancellation, Trip Interruption and Disruption Coverages.

It is recommended by the UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office that you have Travel Insurance for Russia. Always ensure your policy will cover high risk destinations.

Please Note:

This is a summary document and is subject to change. All High Risk Voyager customers have full access to updated comprehensive country information profiles, with access to profiles available for the duration of their Travel Insurance policies.

If you would like to gain full access to country information profiles, you can do so by purchasing a High Risk Voyager Travel Insurance policy.
